Where are you living?
I'm in the Bay Area,
but headed off to Seattle tomorrow for a few days.

to my first email went in my "junk box" but my follow up email the next day, June 5th, would have told you that I live a good deal of the time these days in Del Mar.

Based on what you are saying to Adam you recall responding to this second email which I don't believe I received.

BTW a coyote that visits with us several times a day just ran through the back of our Stone Home nestled in a gently sloping hill deep inside the most beautiful Cleveland National Forest.

Would you agree that if you stop searching for the truth you will be on the "$ hit list" [sic]?

Have you commented on the Israeli Military Intelligence report only available for public viewing on just3ants.com?

Do you understand the significance on the world's capital and financial markets by not only this most easy to understand military report of all but how well I have also explained that Israeli Military Intelligence as well as the Mossad who are "kept honest" by the deep underground Jewish Underground didn't fall for the "ruse" when Senator John McCain's Admiral father sent the USS Liberty in to "harms ways" resulting not simply in the Israel Defense Force "unloading" on the totally defenseless but most wired US spy ship which is exactly what the corrupt US Government expected but much more importantly the US Government only found out after sending US fighter-bombers armed with nuclear weapons that Israel hadn't fallen for this most carefully laid "trap" which was quite obvious given how so extraordinarily unlikely it would have been a "friend" of the US Government who had unleashed such an extraordinary amount of ordinance both from the air and sea when the strongest ally of the United States in the war zone; namely Egypt was without an air force?

The fact that the capital and financial markets have yet to react to simply the Israeli Military Intelligence report that spells out clearly the duplicity of the US Government may have you beginning to question the call right this moment, see Drudge Report for some sort of UNIFIED REGULATION OF GLOBAL BANKING...

You perfectly understand that anyone with the slightest amount of common sense when hearing the two words, "Diamond Currency" goes silent.

You wouldn't even need to be a student of economics to know that for more than a century De Beers, the mafia of mafia have never not once provided an inventory of the diamond currency that is unlimited in supply, untraceable, lightweight and always price fixed at more than a barrel of oil but not necessarily more than De Beers price fixed diamond tipped drilling bits needed to extract oil buried deep underground.

You, however, are a Professor of Economics and know more than most.

The first thing you would therefore understand is that in the previous to last paragraph I provided two points of "triangulation" to nail shut the case of price fixing against De Beers and Co. the monopolist of monopolists.

The next thing I notice is that I am still typing, now recalling you mentioning, "I have gotten so many from him..."

I will wait no more than 5 minutes for your response before heading for a quick run around the 90 minute loop walk of rather treacherous Noble Canyon.

Feel free to "keep up the banter" but understand I also understand how very easy it would be for you to invite such a most interesting speaker to your campus and if all the facilities are taken to convene right now in real time all your very best students including this one getting his PH.D at Boston University, who told Adam L. Tucker in no uncertain terms to, "fuck off".

If you think I am a little "too aggressive" then all I can put it down to is the fact that you feel I haven't been aggressive enough with my close friend Deborah "I am aggressive" Sturman Esquire who along with Melvyn Weiss of Milberg Weiss Bershad Hynes and Lerach, former clients of mine, extorted out of the remnants of the Nazi Germany military machine some US$4 billion in back slave wages for my Jewish brothers and sisters enslaved in the death camps of De Beers Nazi Germany that had the top echelons of the De Beers-Anglo American Cartel laughing their heads off at both Deborah and Melvyn who got bought off for peanuts.

Would like to hear more about my great maternal grandmother, Nechie Badash who witnessed her entire immediate family being wiped out by a bunch of anti-Semites who came riding into her little village of Plonsk, White Russia-Poland on a "night out on the town" having fun killing Jewish people for the simple reason that they were Jewish?

Can you tell me what it means to you to be "Jewish"?

What is the biggest crime you can think of besides for not sharing the truth even when you know it interferes with your pocket book?

I am available to meet with you tomorrow, bearing in mind if I were you and truly interested in making a positive difference, bearing in mind that I am very much ahead of the curve, able to go back and forth and not feel the need to convince anyone given my very clear track record of success, I would put off everything I was doing given the very unstable conditions of the capital and financial markets that have yet to reflect what not only you and I know about a number of rather important things including that mind-bogglingly brilliant Israeli Military Intelligence report which I don't believe you have commented on, let alone shared with others you trust about its dire strait consequences for the U.S. economy.

You have heard repeatedly in your lifetime, "What goes up must come down".

My repetition just like my "many emails" is designed to give everyone who reads them an opportunity to "opt out" and at the same time "find comfort" with other "lost souls" who inevitably stick out like "sore thumbs".

Time is of the essence!

Gary

Ps - Remember I haven't forgotten that you have never in your entire career come across someone with as much credibility, having operated at the highest levels of the socio-economic ladder as well as being trusted by both Israeli Military Intelligence as well as the Mossad who don't fuck around.

When I see anyone mocking someone who is clearly "allied with me" such as Adam L. Tucker, suggesting Adam do "this and that" to protect himself - the coyote is now back in the backyard just having taken a pee directly in front of me - when they are "schooled enough" to know exactly why FBI Special Agent Curran Thomerson visited with Adam L. Tucker, I have to wonder whether you are insane, incompetent, culpable or all of the Above, take your pick!

You know perfectly I could have kept this all much shorter, and if you are truly in search for the truth then you will have no problem correcting any of my incorrect assumptions.

I thought I had replied to him in which I discussed the fact that I wasn't in the middle of a mid-life crisis. I gave him my cell number so he could check my voice with his lie detector equipment (which he might not have, but you all should acquire if you are worried about if someone takes a contract out on you, which shouldn't cost more than one carat).

I will try to find it and resend it.

Again a coincidence: I worked on a class action suit against ATT a few years ago that cut off its legs. It had been charging a couple of dollars a month for decades for telephones that no longer existed. Although from the individuals point of view a couple of dollars per month wasn't enough to question, from the corporate point of view, it was at least $300 M per year. Once this source of revenue was cut out from under it, it could no longer compete. First, sold to Cingular and then to SBC to form the "new AT&T," which wasn't new at all it was just SBC with a new name. I remember hating AT&T for its lack of innovation, etc. So changing SBC to ATT didn't seem to be such a good idea, but apparently, younger consumers don't remember dealing with Ma Bell.

But some of your email sounds like a rant. I think you need less ranting and more legal language. I think your emails need to sound at least as serious as those daily emails from Nigeria.

I think you need to come up with a better life insurance scheme. Something that is set in motion should you die. I can't think of anything right now, but unless you are seen as a serious figure by the public, you can disappear without a trace. Or you might want to offer a prize or reward for something. Also, once industrial diamonds are indistinguishable from natural diamonds, DeBeers is worth shit.

Stay away from walks on PCH in Malibu village. I can't imagine living there and backing out of my garage onto the highway.

Hey, what the hell is life about? I believe that it is about creating life, which for us is creating history. Most people can influence history only by creating children. You have the opportunity to create history, to become immortal through your impact on the world. We will all die physically anyway. To be afraid of making history is death forever.

I am doing this because you are interesting and being around interesting people creates new synapses and keeps me young. When you meet me, you will have a hard time guessing my age, even though you know it.

Actually, the meeting with Paul Allen next Thursday has been canceled (for me) because he only has 2 hours instead of 3. I am meeting with people at his VC firm tomorrow to discuss their investment strategy in small reactors (one of which is being developed in South Africa, hence another connection). Therefore, when I return on Monday evening, I won't have another trip until July 12th, when I fly off to Paris and the celebration of their birthday on July 14th and mine on July 20th.

Stirring the pot.

Gary was working on a case with a class action litigator named Jeffrey Krinsk of Finkelstein and Krinsk, which is one of the most successful class action law firms in the country.

They were taking on Ronald Perelman of Revlon who was utilizing third-party handlers responsible for receiving returned products to allow him to postpone when the returns would be processed sometime tying up returned merchandise for months to defer when it would post negatively to their quarterly earnings.

I'm not sure how long Gary and Jeffrey knew each other before Gary explained his intimate knowledge of De Beers, but they came up with a game plan which in summary amounts to destroying De Beers by first cutting off the limbs.

Remember I don't believe in coincidences. When I was doing research last week for the latest website revision, I came across the wedding announcement for Jennifer War and Jonathan Oppenheimer. Prior to that I had never heard the name Jonathan Oppenheimer, and to have the opportunity to reach a family member on US soil was never presented before.

Could you imagine the conversations around the very large international law firm Skadden Arp on this coming Monday? If Rod Ward is not dismissed from Skadden for the liability and exposure it only speaks that much more to their culpability and involvement with De Beers. Desperation leads to irrational thinking and actions. I understand that irrational thinking could also translate into my death, but I have chosen a path, and when the opportunity presents itself, I have to take it.

Additionally, the more exposure I get the more difficult it is to kill me without further exposure. If I define myself in a very public way, it acts as an insurance policy. You were blind copied in one of the original emails to go out, but it has since been forwarded to over 47,000 people across the world by me alone.

I like to go for walks on PCH when ever possible; what is to prevent a person from dropping their cigarette, swerving, and hitting me? Surely if I didn't go on my walks I would never have to worry about that potentiality, but that is not going to stop me.

My ex-wife's father passed away at age 38 from an aneurism while he was sleeping with no known health problems before that.

I realize that messing with the mafia of mafia's is quite a bit different than going for a walk, but when do you draw the line as to what wrongs are worth standing for?

There is no security that I will live to see tomorrow regardless of me choosing to confront the "wrongs" in the world; that said, when I die whether it be in my sleep or at the barrel of a gun, I want my legacy to be of action and not complacency.

I was presented with an opportunity to know information about a world that most people are oblivious to, from someone who is far more than an insider. The opportunity cost of ignoring those truths and living a life in denial is not a life that I can live with.

Our goal is to share knowledge and insight. In the past history has always been written by the people in power. The advent of the internet has changed all that; there are no coincidences.

Anonymity fosters crime. I'm sure you have seen at least one video taken of politicians contradicting themselves and in some cases resigning from the embarrassment of their hypocrisy. When you consider Moore's Law that has technology doubling every two years, one can only assume that the transparency that comes with the technological advances will eventually foster a paradigm when people no longer lie, not because they don't want to but because they can no longer successfully get away with it.

In a previous email to me you asked me, "what do you need from me?" You could have said, "what do you want from me?".

You don't need to put your neck out as I have done to contribute; you are in the position of having access to relatively raw minds that are still asking questions and seeking truth. Gary's understanding of economics and consistent honesty has allowed him to maintain a very pure logic, and when you don't lie steal or cheat, you can always count on having truth on your side. Additional you don't have to waste brain cells in keeping track of all your lies which frees up that energy to be applied elsewhere. The same cannot be said for De Beers or our corrupt politicians and the more that people are aware the less likely corruption will be tolerated until someday it is no more.

You also mentioned in a previous email, your awareness of the sensitive balance that you and all of us live and that it can all be taken away in a heartbeat or as you mentioned, with cancer.

I think that it would be beneficial for us to meet. Let me know when you return from your travels so that we may coordinate schedules.

Opportunities are everywhere but it is the ability to act on them that defines us.

You have everything to gain.

Cheers,
Adam

Subject: "Free Market" - Diamonds are not forever

Rod,

To what extent do you believe is the effect that the De Beers Anglo-American diamond monopoly which has no entry for competition and has operated for more than 100 years without interruption has on our "free or mixed market system"?

To what extent do you believe is the effect of an untraceable unregulated currency in the same said market system?

The following is an excerpt from Wikipedia: FBI Agent Robert Hanssen who is responsible for the worst security breach in US history

"Hanssen was arrested on February 18, 2001, at Foxstone Park near his home in Vienna, Virginia, charged with selling American secrets to Moscow for more than $1.4 million in cash and diamonds over a 22-year period. On July 6, 2001, he pleaded guilty to 15 counts of espionage in federal court. He was subsequently sentenced to life in prison without parole. His activities have been described as "possibly the worst intelligence disaster in US history."

Do you think that Robert Hansen is the only person to have ever been paid in untraceable unregulated diamond currency?

Do You think JP Morgan co-founder of the Federal Reserve System, ever thought that the masses would ever realize his role in the creation of the most transparent money laundering system when he formed Anglo-American alongside your son-in-law's great grandfather, Ernest Oppenheimer?

I don't believe that you are Jewish, but does it upset you or any of those around you to know that according to the United States OSS and the US Justice Department, Harry Oppenheimer was supplying Hitler with diamonds both as currency and for the much needed precision tooling necessary to amass a military capable of taking on Europe and wiping out 6 million of the best and brightest?

Does it bother you to have to visit your grandchildren in South Africa because their father is not allowed to set foot on US soil without of course incriminating the US Justice Department that much more?

Have you ever read the non-fiction novel "The Diamond Invention" by Edward J Epstein?
